Manager's Notes . . .

George Kerr

Since my last programme notes the playing and managerial staff have paid a visit to Ruston Gas Turbines and a very interesting and rewarding experience it turned out to be. It was particularly interesting to myself in terms of how the organisation worked and what standards were maintained in the factory. Our guides for the day numbered two old friends who took myself and others round, the factory nine years ago and they were able to point out the progress the firm had achieved and the different turbines that were now required for the various markets around the world.

When you listen to what the firm has achieved over the period you do realise what a major firm we have in Lincoln and it was very obvious that the senior managers of the company do realise also that a successful Lincoln City would help them become even better. That fact is something I have experienced at Grimsby when the bosses at the docks expressed their gratitude to me for the success of the club which they said helped their industrial relations, etc. "The common ground was how industrial relations and football was described to me."

It is therefore quite something for our players to work for, that of improving output on the shop floor and helping City to become a little more prosperous than it is already. We would therefore like to thank RGT for arranging our visit and we look forward to helping the firm and its workers in any way we can in the future. Certainly by winning today's game against Bolton Wanderers would be as good a way to start as any.

I attended the Supporters Club Meeting last Monday evening and was delighted to see Vic Withers present a most welcome £20,000 cheque to the club. I honestly believe that our players owe all the people that contributed to this cheque a great deal more winning football than they have been providing of late.

The players in particular have worked and are working very hard to achieve my particular standards of fitness and while that will not always win us our matches it will give us a better chance than we had.

You will also have noticed that Newport have signed Bob Latchford on a further months loan and that Steve Collins has left us to join Peterborough. These situations all help balance the books and I shall be looking to move a few more players out of the club for the same reasons.

I do hope we give you the success you deserve today.

Enjoy the game.

Regards George.

Sincil Scene

I hate to bring it up in these troubled times but do you remember when Lincoln lost 7-0 at Derby County.

I do — vividly! You see I was working for the Derby Evening Telegraph at the time and by a strange quirk of fate I had just been offered, and accepted, the job of covering Lincoln City 24 hours earlier. Did I get some stick when I went to work the following Monday to announce I was leaving — for Lincoln. “Good team they’ve got down there,” came the quips. “The goalkeeper came for a job as a teaboy here, but he kept dropping the cups,” they continued tirelessly. I vowed the glory days were only round the corner and I wasn’t going there to cover Fourth Division football in 1986/87.

As I worked out my months notice the jibes became increasingly barbed as the Imps lost to Blackpool in the FA Cup and then York and Wigan in the League. I was glad to get out of the place and keen to bring some good luck to Sincil Bank. The game against fellow strugglers Cardiff City was to be my first and, having examined Lincoln’s demise in relation to injuries and the strength of the team’s they had been playing, I was confident they could get back to winning ways. How wrong I was. As we all know they lost 4-0 at home and the City of Derby had never seemed so beautiful as it did at that moment. What had I let myself in for I wondered. The end of the week brought the sacking of John Pickering, who all, but passed George Kerr in the car park as the new boss took over the hot seat which was literally still warm from that morning.

I’d only been in the job a fortnight and hadn’t got to know John Pickering very well but George Kerr struck me as a different kettle of fish altogether. Pickering was a quiet, mild mannered type of bloke while Kerr was brash, bouncy and never afraid to call a spade a spade to keep it in polite terms. He knew what he wanted, he was confident he could pull the club round and was not able to be messed about by anybody, including me I might add, in his quest to keep the club in Division Three. Yet allied to that determination he displayed a friendly, welcoming nature and a razor sharp sense of humour a Gillette GII couldn’t match. He has brought in new players who he is sure can do the job because he’s known them in the past. It would be fair to have misgivings about all of them as each has headed towards the soccer scrapheap. But after enjoying Ian McInnes’ blistering debut against Bury, when he scored twice, who would argue against Mr. Kerr’s judgement.

Kevin Kilmore, once tipped for the very top, has returned from the Belgian Second Division eager to prove himself and when fully match fit, should show he hasn’t lost his golden touch. Simeon Hodson and Bobby Mitchell are from the opposite ends of the scale. Mitchell has the experience which is so vital and having played somewhere near 300 league games, is obviously no slouch. Hodson is hoping to show he still has the youthful enthusiasm and skill which blasted him into Notts. County’s first team at 18.

All have something to prove and if George Kerr can’t bring out the best in them I don’t think anybody will.

JUNIOR RED IMPS

On Saturday, 1st February, the Junior Red Imps spent a very enjoyable day as guests of the Junior Rovers at Doncaster.

Approximately 30 members, parents and friends left Sincil Bank on a very cold, damp morning and we arrived at Belle Vue in high spirits hoping to avenge the 14-1 defeat from our previous encounter at Sincil Bank in September.

Our members were divided into two teams, which played one half each, and despite strong winds, rain and freezing temperatures they produced a very enjoyable game of football. Parents and friends didn't fare so well and after battling with inside-out umbrella's, spilt coffee and cigarettes which refused to light, some of us sought the shelter of the coach! The Junior Rovers won the match 12-0 in spite of their first goal being disallowed by the Junior Red Imps Chairman acting as linesman!

After the match we were taken to a local church hall where Junior Rovers committee members and parents had spent the morning preparing lunch. We soon warmed up with cups of tea and plates of sausages, jacket potatoes and beans and a very appropriate sweet — Arctic Roll!

After a couple of games we moved on to Belle Vue for the afternoon's 'Big Match' and the Junior Red Imps soon made themselves known to the other occupants of the stand with some very noisy but tuneful songs! Well done to everyone who played in the morning match and to James Kempton who led the Imps out onto the Belle Vue pitch as their mascot for the afternoon. Special thanks to Dave Wilkinson for refereeing the match and lasting the full hour without getting hypothermia!

A reminder to all members and supporters under the age of 16, that tomorrow's Junior Red Imps Meeting is in the Social Club at 10.30 a.m. Players will be there so don't forget your autograph books.

NEWS FROM BURNDEN PARK

The 'Trotters' as our visitors from Bolton are commonly called were formed in 1874 as Christ Church F.C. In 1877 they became Bolton Wanderers, turned professional in 1880, became founder members of the Football League in 1888 and a limited company in 1895. The Trotters started their existence at the Park Recreation Ground, moved onto the Cockle's Field and Pike Lane ground before settling at their impressive Burnden Park ground in 1895.

A quick glance at the Clubs Football League and Honours Record (on the opposite page) show the great and proud history of this Lancashire Club.

Legendary names of Bolton's history include Nat Lofthouse, 255 League Goals for the Trotters and 33 England caps between 1946 and 1961 and goalkeeper Eddie Hopkinson another England International, who holds the record number of League appearances for Bolton at 519.

The Club's record attendance is 69,912, FA Cup, 5th round, 18th February, 1933 versus Manchester City. The Trotters record victory came in the 2nd Round of the FA Cup on the 1st February, 1890 when they beat Sheffield United 13-0. The record defeat was on 21st March, 1936 against Manchester City, 7-0. A look at the Record Transfer Fees paid £350,000 to W.B.A. for Len Cantello in May 1979 and transfer fee received £340,000 from Birmingham City for Neil Whatmore in August 1981, show that Bolton 'live in another world' to the likes of the Red Imps.

Like their old Lancashire rivals Burnley and Preston, Bolton have hit bad times. They have had three managers in the past 12 months, John McGovern, Charlie Wright and now they are in the charge of ex Liverpool and England star Full-back Phil Neale who is attempting to fill a player manager role.

Recent results, including last Saturday's 3-1 defeat at Swansea, have been disappointing and the Trotters are poised above the relegation zone.

Bolton play in white shirts, navy blue shorts and white stockings.

GEORGE'S COMMENTS

I am writing these notes prior to the Notts. County game and so I am unable to comment on the result or performance, however you will see from the tables that when our game against tonights opponents was previously arranged that we had played 28 games and secured 25 points, as I write we have played 33 games and secured 35 points, not that much of an improvement but at least we have more points than games played and this is always a sure sign that a team has turned the corner. Burnley in fact were the fourth bottom side last year going down with 46 points so if we take that as the norm then I think we have got to aim for at least 50 points to secure our place in the third division.

Tonight's opponents are of course like ourselves having a difficult season but they are to many people in football still a big club and hopefully for everybody in the business they will regain their proper status as quickly as possible.

Our game against the local Sunday League went off very well and I am sure both the professional and the amateurs enjoyed the night immensely. We hope to hold a social evening to round off the event on May 5th, this will be held in the Social Club and everybody is welcome. It is amazing the interest and publicity that the Club received from my threat to appear in the side versus Notts. County. I'm quite sure that most people enjoyed the thought and were quite pleased when I didn't actually play. The point of the exercise was to publicise the game against Notts. County and I make no apology to anybody by doing it in this way. Perhaps next year when our results are better then we will attract our own publicity through our performances but at this moment I have to use any means that I can. I'm quite sure that as long as the City is getting mentioned in the media that has got to be a good thing.

Enjoy tonights game and thank you for your attendance.

Regards GEORGE.

LATEST NEWS FROM BURNDEN PARK

The Trotters come to Sincil Bank this evening having just nine games left to play and only three of them being at home. Since the original game was postponed on February 15th Bolton have played seven games gaining eleven points. The Trotters are fifteenth in the league but with six away games left and only twelve points being gathered so far on their travels Bolton are not absolutely safe from relegation, especially as some of the teams under them — Bristol Rovers, Darlington, Bury and Lincoln — have several games in hand.

Saturday's brilliant 5-0 home victory over relegation threatened Cardiff was a tonic for the Trotters in front of a 4,114 crowd. The goals came from player manager Phil Neal, Mark Came, Warren Joyce, George Oghani and top striker Tony Caldwell the ex Horwich R.M.I. club man who is reported to be attracting the attention of many clubs including Blackburn, Oldham and Barnsley.

Snapshots from City's recent 4-1 victory over Swansea

Stalemate: Peter Daniel and Tommy Hutchinson clash for the ball.

Willie Gamble notches his first goal and City's second of the game.

Gordon Mair beats two more defenders and sends in another tantalising cross.

There's no stopping Ian McInnes down the wing — not legally anyway!

Which way are we kicking? Willie beats two defenders, but is he going the wrong way?

"ODDS AND ENDS"

In last seasons clash between the two clubs at Sincil Bank City ended up 2-0 winners. Devon White and Neil Redfearn scored the goals and the attendance was 2,448.

Striker John Thomas scored six goals in 18 full matches with Bolton between 1980 and 1982 before his transfer to Chester City. He then moved on to Sincil Bank where he led the scoring charts with 15 league and cup goals in 1983-84. He scored another five goals for City last season before moving to Fourth Division Preston during the close season.

Ian Greaves who managed Bolton between 1974 and 1980 played for Lincoln during the 1960-61 season as a full-back. He made 13 league and cup appearances before moving to Oldham Athletic in May, 1961. While in charge at Burnden Park he took the Trotters to the Division Two title in 1977-78.

The first reported meeting of the two clubs at Sincil Bank was on January 28th, 1888 in a friendly match. Lincoln won 4-3 with two goals from Billy Gregson, one from Jimmy Slater and one from a scrimmage.

George Eastham, senior who played 114 times for Bolton between 1932 and 1937 finished his league career at Sincil Bank in the late 1940's. He won his only England cap against Holland in May 1935 but his son, also called George played 19 times for England in the 1960's.

Winger Neville Bannister is another player to have worn the colours of both clubs. He came to the Imps from Burnden Park in March, 1961 and played in 74 league games over the next few seasons. He was transferred to Hartlepool in August, 1964.

WHEN CITY NEARLY FOLDED

Part One

The financial plight of football over the last few years has seen famous clubs such as Wolves, Derby, Hull and Swansea all in deep trouble. But in the 1920's and 1930's when a similar crisis hit the game during an earlier economic depression Lincoln City were one of the clubs that almost went under.

The Imps had managed to sort out their immediate post-war cash problems by the time they went into the Third Division Northern Section when it began in 1921. This was despite having been thrown out of the Football League in 1920. The accounts for the year up to May 1921 showed a profit of more than £1,000 and a net balance of £153. However problems were not far away. After a season in the Midland League the new Northern Section meant vastly increased travelling expenses. Despite the better class of football, gates remained steady at around 5,000 partly due to increasing unemployment. Even the sale of leading scorer Bob Chambers to Burnley for £650 in March, 1922 failed to prevent a £1,600 loss on the 1921-22 season.

City, however, were optimistic going into the 1922-23 season. Results were patchy and attendances showed no real increase towards the break-even point of around 8,000. An early exit from the FA Cup at Chesterfield did not help and by December it was clear there were serious problems. A fund-raising Billiard Week was organised by one of the directors with the aim of bringing in £1,000 and the public was asked to buy shares that were available. This was a major problem as only £566 of the authorised share capital of £5,000 had been taken up.

These calls went unheeded by the local businessmen and the crunch came in the first week of February, 1923. The club were unable to pay the players' wages and with debts rising there was considerable doubt that the home match with Tranmere would be fulfilled on February 10th. A dramatic settlement was reached with the players on the Friday and the match went ahead with City winning 2-0. Under the terms of the settlement wages were reduced by a considerable amount although not by half as originally expected. Those who were not prepared to accept this had the option of a free transfer with £10 in lieu of two weeks pay. seven of the squad chose the option to go including three regular first-teamers — Griffiths, Grocott and Greaves — although Greaves later changed his mind and stayed.

The crisis was due to cash flow problems. The new year had seen just one home match while there were long and expensive trips to Hartlepool, Barrow, Darlington, Nelson and Tranmere. When the true financial position was revealed it was obvious major surgery was required. Liabilities had almost doubled since the start of the season reaching £3,153. There was a bank overdraft of £1,773, outstanding bills totalled £855 and the directors had loaned £525. Gate money of £150, before Entertainment Tax was taken out, could not sustain a fortnightly wage bill of £240.
